

AMY YOUNG

KEYBOARD TUTOR

Amy has played Piano for over 15 years and has achieved a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Popular Music Performance and a Master of Arts Degree in Music For The Moving Image, both specialising in Piano.

After Amy's music in film focused Masters Degree she began working on film sets in the sound department with companies such as Paramount+. She also travelled to universities and colleges with company FilmBuddy to speak as a panel on her experience, insight to set life and inspire students to enter the industry too.

Amy now composes music for television companies such as BBC, ITV and Channel 5 with her music appearing behind TV shows and documentaries such as Inside The Force, Bettany Hughes Treasures of The World and Police: Night Shift 999.

Amy has been a piano tutor with the Rockworks Academy for 2 years and enjoys teaching students their favourite music from the first lesson, and making music accessible for all including individuals with Autism and additional needs.

Amy loves heavy metal music, all things gothic and halloween and most importantly, her cat Flixie!
